ANALYSIS, PURIFICATION AND INTEGRATION FROM THE MAT / CÔTE D'AZUR

NICOLE BONOMI // SPIRIT SPEAK

Your fear is not My fear.

Now stay and receive.

Fear is (always) the illusion of more than one program. [Always more than one]

The illusion is the stage performance. Even the 'one-man show' requires stage crew. [Another] man to pull the curtain.

Your fears are stage performances, performed by the unintegrated aspects of your being [not 'Self']. None pure are [left] unintegrated. Those requiring analysis remain at the whim of a calling.

Hear me.

All aspects of 'the being' are to be held under analysis. While the framework holds four pillars - those pillars are considered for multiple aspects.

The desire "to be" is a movement manifested, as an expression with multiple aspects. The aspects involve both the expression of the movement [itself], and the ventricle of the former [hollow parts of the previous state it moved from]. To "come into" pure expression "of being", One needs to consider 'all that was', that [now] 'pulls the curtains' of the current performance [has impact on the now].

Now your pen is dancing. Only 20 minutes to the circuit this morning.

Patience indeed a virtue.

Now stay.

ANALYSIS, PURIFICATION AND INTEGRATION FROM THE MAT / CÔTE D'AZUR

NICOLE BONOMI // SPIRIT SPEAK

Consider "those that were", [as] "ghosts of the former expression". Those ghosts convolute the current expression and impede movement to the next. [The next "to be"].

Hold the ghosts of "the former", under analysis.

What fear is provoked by the moment?

What irrationality?

What rationality?

What agony is kept by allowance of these unintegrated aspects of being?

If I should 'connect', will my heart be robbed? - Open chest. Treasure stolen.

Which ghost dims the light in the moment [that] the One Willing [the one who is willing "to be" [vulnerable] enters?

Stay with me.

Call this light dimmer centre stage - place them in question.

What fear of theft do you have?

That "love" could rob you of Your Self?

Is this love?

But of course it is not.

Fear not the thief - Wisdom sees all. [Activated lens of truth]. Wisdom is the Seer.

Then what fear have you?

That you should have taken/[stolen] what is [rightfully] yours?

What is yours cannot be taken. What is yours will be with you even in death. [You say] it is "welded" to your eternal Self. It is not welded child, in fact, but part of functionality. Like the nucleus to the cell and the lungs to the heart.

So then who is the light dimmer but the ghost of yesterday's agony unanalysed.

And for expression to be "purified" in the moment, [for richer moments] your duty is to analyse those [aspects] trodding in from yesterday. Thank them for their performance, for without their performance there was no coming to Self [Peace]. Remember they are all but drama and comedy (tales of the human experience).

Pain [was/is] the portal, dear Stoic.

Gratitude for agony, [is] another virtue.

And this is not to say My Will is agony [love is All], but for you to realise through revelation that it was always required in the human experience, for the deepening and the lengthening [of the Self].

So 'fear' is not Mine.

Fear is a product - a residue of the human expression.

Free thySelf from the ghosts of yesterday through analysis. All aspects. All pillars. And move. And pure expression [purify]. Proceed in purification and integration.
